ROMA
FORENSIC EXPERT - NEW YORK

"Working with Eram Saeed helped me discover my true, authentic self. I learned radical self-acceptance and self-love."

"The number one reason I almost didn't join Eram Saeed's program was the price, but the biggest benefit I've gained from working with her is that I've discovered my true, authentic self. It took less than a month for my transformation to begin, as my false beliefs and illusions started to crumble.

I've gained clarity and confidence, and I no longer seek the approval of others. Instead, I've learned radical self-acceptance and self-love is what I truly needed. Eram Saeed is special because she is original, authentic, and deeply connected to the Divine. That love for the Divine and her ability to inspire that love in others is what makes her unique.

Working with Eram has been life-changing, and I highly recommend her program."

HAREEM
DIGITAL MARKETER - PAKISTAN

"The number one benefit I experienced was the realization that all the answers I was seeking were already within me. That discovery was life-changing."

"I almost didn't join Eram Saeed for two reasons. First, I thought it was really expensive. And second, I didn't believe in spiritual healing or teachings of that sort, so I was hesitant. But, wow, I'm so glad I did!

The number one benefit I experienced after joining was that my hesitations disappeared immediately. Right from the start, I was faced with this huge realization about the self. I realized that the answers I was seeking were already within me. As soon as I understood this, which was pretty early on in the course, I was shocked at how little I knew before and how quick I was to judge the miracle that stood in front of me. I gained emotional intelligence that I never had before, and it gave me so much strength.

The reason I knew this was right for me was that the circumstances aligned in such a way that I had no other choice but to dive in. And I'm so glad I did. I wouldn't be where I am now—so emotionally secure—without this experience. I thought I needed help with not caring about what others thought, but I learned to be more compassionate and hold a mirror up to myself. Every emotion and reaction is a reflection of something within you. This was a huge breakthrough for me, and it came from Eram's teachings.

My experience with Eram Saeed has been truly transformative. It was tough love, not just sympathy, and that did more for me than anything else. If you're thinking about joining, take the leap of faith. It's worth it."

"The biggest benefit I gained from working with Eram is the incredible confidence to pursue my passions and live a more authentic life. She helped me gain the clarity and confidence I needed to make a major career change. Within weeks, my whole perspective shifted."

"The number one reason I almost didn't join Eram Saeed was fear—fear of stepping out of my comfort zone and confronting my deepest fears and limiting beliefs. But I'm so glad I did.

The biggest benefit I gained from working with Eram is the incredible confidence to pursue my passions and live a more authentic life. Eram helped me get clear on what I really wanted, and that clarity was the push I needed to make a career change. It took me 30 days to shake off self-doubt and start going after my goals with confidence. Within two weeks, my perspective shifted, and opportunities started flowing in.

I thought I needed help with confidence, but what I really learned was how to embrace vulnerability. That's where I found my true inner strength. Eram Saeed is the best in the world at creating a safe, loving, and transformative environment. She provides not just clarity but practical tools that last a lifetime. She's genuine, caring, and relatable.

A huge breakthrough for me was learning how to set healthy boundaries. Before Eram, I was a people pleaser and felt drained all the time. Now I'm empowered to prioritize myself and maintain balance in my life."

"Within just weeks of joining Eram's course, I gained clarity and emotional control, and it rekindled my trust and faith in Allah."

I joined Eram's program, and immediately, it rekindled my trust and faith in Allah. I originally wanted to change the things around me, but what I learned was the importance of discovering my inner self and connecting to the Divine. Within weeks, I gained more clarity and control over my emotions, and I began to see things from a completely different perspective.

I really appreciate Eram's efforts. She's the best, not just because she shares the same faith and culture as me, but because her Western exposure makes her relatable."

SAIMA
ORGANIZATIONAL CHANGE SPECIALIST,
MUSICIAN, WRITER - NEW ZEALAND

"Working with Eram Saeed helped me reconnect with my childhood dreams of becoming a musician and writer. Her approach is truly transformative."

"The number one reason I almost didn't join Eram's course was the cost. I had just left work and wasn't sure it was worth the price, but I was wrong.

From the beginning, the course was challenging. It forced me to confront my purpose, career choices, and relationships. But after 30 days, I started seeing changes. I learned to develop healthy boundaries, submit to Allah, and forgive myself and others. Working with Eram helped me reconnect with my childhood dreams—I'm now a musician and writer; things I had pushed aside for years.

Eram is incredibly good at combining Western sciences with Islam, and her approach resonates deeply with me. If you're on the fence about joining, I highly recommend it."

RAMSHA SULTAN
ELECTRONICS ENGINEER, BUSINESSWOMAN, AND SOCIAL MEDIA INFLUENCER

"I thought I needed help with letting go of grudges, but what I really learned was how to control my own mind and stop dwelling on past events."

"The number one reason I almost didn't join Eram Saeed's course was the cost. I thought it was too expensive, but after going through it, I realized it was worth every penny.

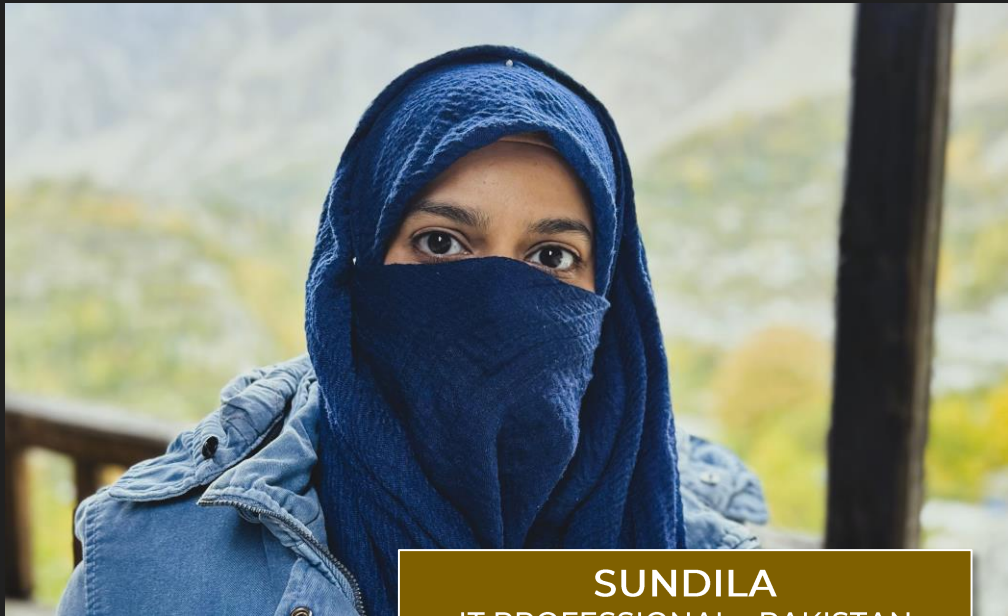

The biggest benefit I gained from the course is that I no longer see myself as a victim. I've stopped dwelling on the unfortunate events in my life. The course took several weeks, but I learned psychological techniques to overcome past traumas. I thought I needed help with letting go of grudges, but what I actually learned was how to control my own mind.

Eram Saeed is exceptional when it comes to helping South Asian women resolve their traumas using both Islamic teachings and psychology. She's humble, approachable, and always available to answer questions. If you're thinking of joining, don't hesitate—this will be the best experience of your life."

"Working with Eram Saeed has completely changed my perspective on growth. I realized that true freedom comes from within."

"I joined Eram's program, and it was a life-changing experience. I was hesitant at first because of the cost and our cultural differences, but I took the leap, and it has been more than a year now, and I know I made the right decision.

What I've gained from working with Eram has completely changed my perspective on personal and professional growth. Initially, I thought others were responsible for my freedom, but I realized that true freedom comes from within. The universe that grants you freedom resides in you.

What I admire most about Eram is her balanced approach—she merges different societies, cultures, and religions into a harmonious whole. She shows how a woman, aligned with her Divine purpose, can have a significant impact on society.

SADIA IQBAL
MEDICAL DOCTOR - PAKISTAN

"Within 10 days of joining Eram Saeed's course, I felt more confident, fearless, and full of energy than I ever had before."

"The number one reason I almost didn't join Eram Saeed's program was a lack of trust and confidence. After a 13-year journey of feeling wounded and rejected, I struggled to find an authentic therapist who could truly understand and help me heal.

The biggest benefit I gained from working with Eram was developing self-love and confidence, as well as a strong, beautiful relationship with the Divine. I joined her course at one of the darkest points in my life, but within just 10 days, I felt more confident, fearless, and full of energy than I ever had before.

Eram's teachings helped me set healthy boundaries for the first time and stand by my decisions, even when others disagreed. Within six months, I achieved personal and career milestones I had been chasing for over a decade. I highly recommend Eram Saeed because she helps you develop not only self-love but also a strong relationship with Allah."

"I highly recommend working with Eram Saeed—she's no-nonsense and delivers exactly what she promises."

"Eram Saeed gave me the advice, feedback, and coaching I needed to move forward. I had a lot of ideas but wasn't sure how to get started, and now I feel like I have a clear direction. The information I received was so valuable, and I'm excited to go home and implement everything I've learned.

I highly recommend working with Eram. She's no-nonsense and doesn't deal in fluff, which I personally love. She follows through on her promises and helps you get where you need to go."

SIMONE VALENTINE

"Eram Saeed helped me hone in on my unique gifts and talents. I launched on her Telesummit and saw amazing sales right away—her coaching delivers real results."

"My name is Simone Valentine, and I've been listening to From Heartache to Joy on the Telesummit since its inception in 2012. I started coaching with Eram Saeed in 2015 when I joined her coaching program, and ever since then, I've been following her wherever she goes because I absolutely love her energy. She walks her talk, she has a huge heart, a huge capacity to give, and an incredibly creative mind that can really hone in on your unique gifts and talents. She helps you bring those gifts out, nurture them, and connect with an audience so you can deliver them effectively. She's amazing—she rocks!

One of the most important things is that I saw real results from her coaching program. I launched on her Telesummit and had amazing sales right away, and I can't say that about other coaching programs I've taken. Eram's coaching made a tangible difference.

At this retreat, I witnessed so many heart connections and 'aha' moments. People were realizing what they needed to do, and they left knowing the exact steps to take. They could immediately implement what they learned to create a viable funnel and get their online business up and running quickly. For anyone who wants to start an online business, make mistakes, learn from them, and get results, this program that Eram and her incredible team provide will deliver exactly what you're looking for.

And it wasn't just about work—it was fun too! We danced, laughed, ate great food, and even did trust exercises, like catching people before they fell. There was so much joy and connection. Honestly, you should come to the next one. I see a hot tub out there, so who knows? There might be some of that next time too!"

MARY BETH

"Eram Saeed completely changed my life and business. I'd follow her anywhere for her training—she's that good, and she's like a miracle worker."

"I first learned about Eram Saeed in 2013, and I was so excited because I felt like I had finally found my person. I had gone through so many different training programs, wasting tens of thousands of dollars, and none of them gave me the results I wanted. But Eram was different. She was so committed and truly cared about the people she was helping. She did everything she could to make sure you were successful.

When I took her program, it completely changed my life and my business. Recently, I found out she was doing a new program on a million-dollar marketing funnel, and I immediately signed up. I flew into Dallas for the event, and once again, I wasn't disappointed. The best money I ever spent was on her coaching program in 2013, and I feel the same way about this event. She went above and beyond, delivering everything she promised and a million times more.

If you're looking for someone who is consistent, heart-centered, and truly wants to help you succeed, Eram is your person. She helped me get back on track after a family tragedy threw me off course. I had fallen behind in my business, and I needed to rebuild my list and let people know what I was doing. This marketing funnel was the missing piece in my business. Now, I'm so excited to go home and implement all the strategies and steps she taught us.

I know that within a week, I'll start seeing new revenue flowing in. In three months, I expect to have my business back to where it used to be, maybe even beyond that. I know what steps to take now, and with Eram's guidance, I'm confident that I'll regain all the momentum I lost.

Honestly, I would follow Eram anywhere in the world to take her training. She's that good, and she's such a blessing. I can't recommend her highly enough. If you're looking for help in building your business, just reach out to her. She's like a miracle worker. I'm not technical at all, and she knows it, but she has the patience and the strategies to guide you through everything step by step. Sign up for any program she offers—you'll be in great hands."

JADE-YIN HOM
MEDICAL INTUITIVE & LIGHT ALCHEMIST

"Eram Saeed's team took me from not knowing where to begin to succeeding beyond what I thought was possible. Their support is priceless."

"I'm one of the Telesummit speakers, and I'm sharing this message for anyone considering becoming a Telesummit speaker. I highly recommend the Telesummit Superstar Coaching Program with Eram Saeed and her team at From Heartache to Joy.

One of the most amazing things about this program is that Eram and her team know exactly how to support healers like you and me. They help us create the right package that will allow us to stand out and make an impact as speakers and healers in the Telesummit world. If you're a healer who wants to change lives, spread your personal message, and broaden your influence, I can't recommend Eram's coaching program enough. The whole team is dedicated to supporting your success.

Like many healers, I didn't know what kind of package to create at first. Eram's team guided me from the very beginning—helping me create my package, write about it, and develop all the necessary MP3s and videos. On top of that, the coaching on how to speak about your product and connect with the audience was priceless. They helped me go from not knowing where to start to succeeding beyond my expectations, and my practice continues to expand because of it.

The only issue I've run into is having more clients than I can handle, but that's a great problem to have, right? I've been blissfully abundant, thanks to the loving support of Eram and her team. If you're looking for a team to support you, help you get your message out, and make a difference in more people's lives, then the Telesummit Superstar Coaching Program is for you.

I wish you many blessings on your journey as a Telesummit speaker."

SANDHYA

"I left Eram Saeed's retreat knowing exactly what steps to take to build my business in 30 days, and I feel energized to put them all into action."

"My name is Sandhya, and I've known Eram Saeed since 2010. I've been attending her Telesummit, From Heartache to Joy, since then, and I've received a lot of healings through it, which brought me the joy of working with sound healing. My purpose in coming to this retreat was to learn how to build my list, as I'm now focused on creating a business around sound healing, which is one of my greatest joys. I also want to help others heal themselves, so this retreat felt like a natural next step for me.

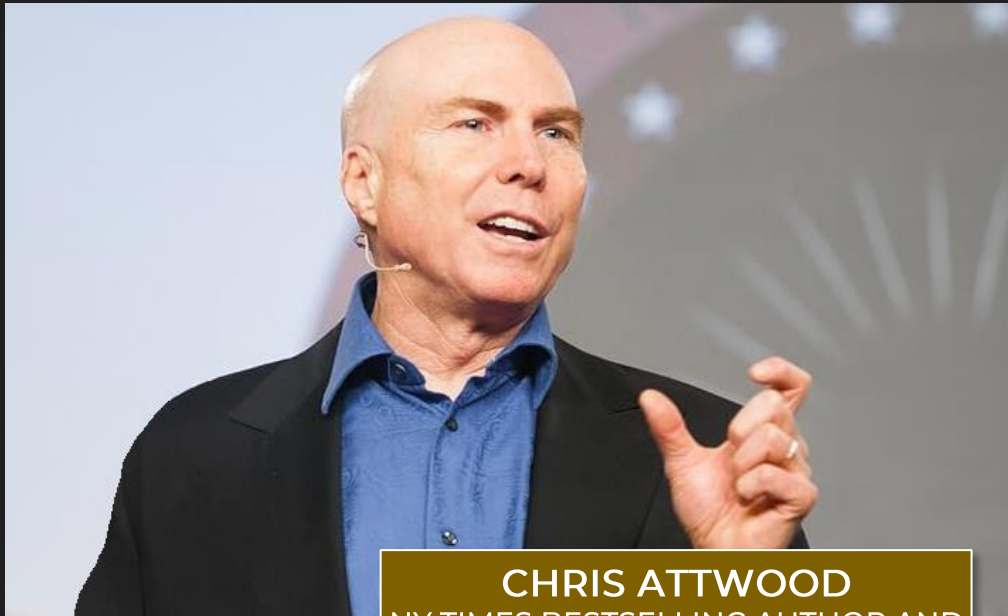

I have to say, I received more than I ever expected at this event. Not only did I get one-on-one personal coaching from Eram, which I wasn't expecting but am so grateful for, but I also learned a lot about how to conduct business, especially in the healing industry. There were other healers at the retreat who had gone through Eram's coaching program, and just hearing from them about their experiences was incredibly insightful.

I've always felt confident in everything I've done with Eram, and my energy was calling for more coaching, so this was the perfect next step for me. I feel like 2019 is my year of creation, and I'm confident that my business will come to full fruition. I know exactly what action steps I need to take to see results in 30 days, and I'm energized and excited to put every step into action.

I highly recommend coaching with Eram. I know for myself that if she offers any personal coaching from now on, I'm jumping on it. This retreat has been extremely helpful. If you're looking to figure out the steps to creating an entrepreneurial business and want to go online, a retreat like this will teach you all the basics you need to move forward successfully. You'll get everything you need from this program, and I would attend 100 more times because I know I'd take away something new from each session."

CHRIS ATTWOOD
NY TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR AND ONLINE MARKETER

"Eram Saeed consistently generates over $70 per email from her list—she's cracked the code on creating significant revenue from a small audience."

"Hi, I'm Chris Attwood, co-author of The New York Times bestseller The Passion Test, and I've been involved in the transformational industry and running online businesses for more than 20 years. I helped arrange about 70% of the interviews for Rhonda Byrne's movie The Secret, and for seven years, I co-hosted The Passion Series with our online magazine Healthy, Wealthy, and Wise. Over the last several years, I've had the good fortune of working closely with Eram Saeed, and I've been blown away by her ability to create revenue seemingly out of thin air.

From my many years in the industry, I've learned that you can typically generate around $10 per email on your email list. However, Eram consistently generates over $70 per email from her list. How does she do that? She's cracked the code. Eram knows how to generate significant, seven-figure revenues from even a small list.

What I love about Eram is that she doesn't focus on fluff. She started by focusing on what would generate revenue immediately and grow her audience, and as her business expanded into multiple seven figures, she began incorporating other strategies. If you have the opportunity to learn from Eram Saeed—whether it's about running summits, creating products, or growing your online business—grab that chance. She will teach you exactly what you need, no matter what stage you're at."
